Description of Urban Livestock: _____

My Urban Livestock Plan includes the following provisions in compliance with the livestock development standards contained in Clark County Code, Section 40.260.235:

Setbacks

- New structures used for large livestock will be located a minimum of twenty (20) feet from all property lines.
- Large livestock will not be allowed within environmentally sensitive areas.

Housing and Confinement

- Animals have access to a structure for protection against the elements.
- Animals are effectively contained on the property.

Animal Husbandry

- Animals are provided care and nourishment necessary to maintain the animal's health and well-being.
- Attention is given to housekeeping and good operational practices.

Manure Management

- Manure is picked up on a regular basis.
- Manure is stored under cover.
- Manure is stored or contained on the property in a way that prevents runoff and/or leaching into a water system.
- Manure is managed to limit the presence of pests, vermin, and insects.

Odor and Noise Management

- Particularly odorous activities are located away from neighbors.
- Regularly use odor masking/neutralizing agents.
- Number of livestock, type of building/structures, feeding regime, manure storage arrangements, and land spreading practices are managed to keep odor and noise levels as low as reasonably possible.
- Odor and noise is minimized by good site design, operational techniques, and maintenance.
- Physical barriers or enclosures are used to prevent odor and noise from causing reasonable annoyance to neighbors.
- Unavoidable noisy activities are timed to be sympathetic to neighbors.

I hereby agree to implement my Urban Livestock Plan in the ways identified above. I understand that I must continually meet these standards in order to maintain a valid Urban Livestock Plan, and that this plan registration shall be automatically void if I change residences.
