HOW TO FORM A NATURE EXPLORE CLUB

Forming a Nature Explore Club is easy! Just gather a group of your family and friends who like to spend time outdoors and agree to meet at least once a month to explore our local parks, trails, and open spaces. Each club will be unique to its participants and their interests. As the Club Leader you get to help determine the outing locations and coordinate the details.

Who can join your club?

Clubs are open to everyone interested in getting outside and exploring! People of all ages and ability levels are encouraged to participate. We suggest that family members join the club along with friends, classmates, colleagues and neighbors.

Why form a club?

The mission of Nature Explore Club is to inspire children and their families to connect with the natural world, get exercise, boost creativity, and build relationships! There are an abundance of great parks, trails, national forests, and open spaces in Clark County which offer a wide range of exploration opportunities.

How do we explore?

That's the easy part! We'll provide you with great resources to assist you in your adventures. In addition to receiving a weekly e-newsletter full of helpful information, each Club Leader will be assigned a Nature Explore Club backpack which includes:

- REI Family Nature Club Guide
- Arbor Day Foundation/Dimensions Activity Kit: leader information, fact sheets, 15 activity guides, and journal ideas.
- Tools: Compass, Binoculars, Magnifying Glass, Whistle, Field Guides, Maps, Journals, and more!

What's the time commitment?

Select a day and time—at least once/month—when everyone in your group can meet. Choose a different park or trail to explore each time and track where you go, what you see, and who you meet. Then share what you learn through journals, blog posts and event participation.
